The Capital Development Board is the construction management agency for Illinois government, overseeing the construction of new state facilities as well as renovation projects at 10,364 state-owned buildings. CDB also is responsible for the removal of hazardous materials from state-owned facilities, the replacement of leaking underground storage tanks on state property, and the remodeling of state buildings to meet accessibility standards. In addition, CDB works with the State Board of Education to administer grants for school construction and renovation to local school districts. It also administers grants to construct early-childhood and community health-care centers.

The agency is guided by a seven-member, bipartisan board that deliberates policy and direction and approves design professionals. The executive director is selected by the board to manage the agency and its employees.

The Illinois Commerce Commission contributes to the development of state and national policies on broadband deployment, renewable and energy efficiency standards, smart grid electricity transmission and delivery, technological changes on regulated utilities, and competition in the telecommunications, electric and gas industries.

The ICC staff analyzes and evaluates rate proposals; conducts hearings; inspects rail, electricity and natural gas infrastructure; responds to consumer complaints; monitors interstate and intrastate motor carriers for safety, fitness and insurance; and promotes competition among utilities and electric, natural gas and telecommunication service providers.

The bipartisan commission consists of five commissioners appointed by the Governor to five-year terms. The Governor designates a chair, and the commission employs an executive director who manages the agency's staff.

Members: Doug Scott, chair; Jonathan Feipel, executive director; John T. Colgan, Ann McCabe, Miguel del Valle and Sherina Maye, commissioners.

The State Board of Elections administers registration and election laws throughout the state. Duties include receiving nominating papers and certificates of nomination, and determining the validity of petitions and the order in which names appear on ballots. The board certifies to each county clerk the names of all candidates who have filed petitions to appear on ballots. Returns from both primary and general elections are filed with the board, and a canvass is conducted before results are certified.

The board also administers the Campaign Financing Act, which covers the public's right to know certain financial information about individuals and groups involved in political campaigns.

Board Members: Jesse R. Smart, chair; Charles W. Scholz, vice chair; Rupert T. Borgsmiller, executive director; Harold D. Byers, Betty J. Coffrin, Ernest L. Gowen, William M. McGuffrage, Bryan A. Schneider and Casandra B. Watson.

Workers' Compensation Commission

Michael Latz

The Workers' Compensation Commission acts as the court for workers' compensation cases. Workers' compensation is a no-fault system of benefits paid by employers to workers who experience job-related injuries or illnesses. Employers pay for the benefits through insurance policies or self-insurance. Roughly 200,000 work-related injuries and illnesses occur each year in Illinois costing about $3 billion in benefits, which are paid based on a worker's earnings and subject to certain limits.

The commission resolves disputes between injured workers and their employers regarding accidents, causal connection, extent of disabilities, medical expenses and other issues. Commission arbitrators conduct hearings at numerous sites throughout the state. Arbitration decisions may be appealed to a panel of three commissioners. Cases may then be appealed to the Circuit Court, Illinois Appellate Court and Illinois Supreme Court.

The 10 members of the commission are appointed to four-year terms by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate. No more than six members may belong to the same political party. The chair serves as the commission's chief executive officer.

Members: Michael Latz, chair; Carolyn L. Parks, executive director; Mario Basurto, Michael Brennan, Daniel Donohoo, Charles J. DeVriendt, David L. Gore, Kevin L. Lamborn, Thomas J. Tyrrell, Ruth W. White, commissioners; and Kim B. Janas, secretary.
